Ranch Fur Production

SCIC uses this information to measure the productive capacity of your operation in the program year and then compares it to the productive capacity of your operation in each of the reference years. Where necessary, your reference year margins will be adjusted to account for any structural change in your farming operation.

Provide historical information for each of the years in which you have reported (or should have reported) net farming income or loss to the Canada Revenue Agency.

Indicate the total units that you owned, rented or provide only your share of the ranch fur share agreement.

Report the total number of females that birthed for each fiscal year. Use a separate form for each operation.

For partnerships, indicate your partnership percentage for this operation in each year.

Report 100 per cent of the production for the partnership below. Your partnership percentage will be applied automatically when your AgriStability benefit is calculated.
